

Adam Paxman, Fellow Brother Elk of the St. Albans Elks Lodge #1566, President of the Swanton, Vermont Chamber of Commerce and the Chair of the Swanton Community Memorial Day Parade, shakes hands with Jason Guyette, Senior Master Sergeant 158th Fighter Wing Vermont Air National Guard as a gesture of thanks and appreciation for his years of service and for being part of the Color Guard that led the parade. Senior Master Sergeant, Jason Guyette is also a member for the Swanton Fire Department.

This picture was taken among the 52 flags that were sponsored by families, friends and organizations honoring a serviceman-woman for their service to the United States of America. Each flag has a small placard with the sponsor's name on one side and the name and information of the serviceman-woman on the other side. All 52 flags were set up in military formation.
